

Lester Limerick

Lester Limerick received his Undergraduate Business Degree from the College of William & Mary in 1979. His background includes sales management experience with RCA Commercial & Defense Products from 1983-1988 and Federal Protection Services from 1989-1993 before forming MaxaVision Technologies.

Areas of expertise include negotiating GSA Schedule Contract awards, primarily for law enforcement related equipment; an extensive knowledge of night vision related products, Electro-Optics, Infrared Imaging and CCTV related products. He is currently a member of the Security Division Executive Committee of NDIA (National Defense Industrial Association), which includes high ranking decision makers from all branches of the military, federal government security program managers as well as industry members.